Huawei

Sl No.	Name	Aptitude Test	JAM/GD	Interview experience	Technical Subjects	Other Comments
1	Syed Dastagir	There was no aptitude round	Yes. They asked most challenging part I faced in my life, then they asked to tell about telecommunication and lastly something about Huawei.	interviewer asked about projects and latest technologies(telecommunications)	Be thorough with networking concepts and deep understanding of our technical projects.	Be confident while speaking.
2	Rachana Naik	No test was conducted	GD We were asked common questions: 1) What do you think is your great achievement and Why? 2) How will you solve the customer?	They asked me to tell me about myself , asked if i was fine with any work location ,asked about my positive and negative qualities, asked about the company and other HR questions	I was asked few questions of digital electronics ,control system, microcontroller	They asked more of HR questions compared to technical.
3	Vikram J	There was no written test for this drive	It helps to talk confidently and use good vocabulary. Also including personal experiences is a plus	The interview was smooth and it was very well handled. It's important to show the interviewer how dedicated you are to the job and serious you are about it without forcing it. Also helps to highlight achievements	Basic understanding of core subjects are important as expected. Mentioning other additional skills will earn brownie points	