GlobalLogic

Sl No.	Name	Aptitude Test	JAM/GD	Interview experience	Technical Subjects	Other Comments
1	Ramya R	Quants, Reasoning, Verbal & Coding	No JAM/GD	I was asked few questions on my project, few technical questions, questions related python, few programs to code and HR questions.	Python and oops concepts	Be confident with whatever you know
2	A RETHIKA	Aptitude questions of easy to medium level.	No JAM/GD	It is was quiet an easy process, we had one round of technical which requires a basic knowledge of coding, one round of Managerial, in which we were again asked coding questions and the last round was the HR interview.	Basic coding knowledge is required	Know your projects well and have strong base of coding.
3	Ruthvik RM	Basic aptitude questions	NA	There were 3 rounds of interview process 1. Technical round: Introduction, about projects, basics oops questions and two basic code (palindrome of a string and prime number) 2. Manager round: Briefly about project, basics oops questions and few managerial questions. 3. HR round: it was one on one communication with the HR and basic HR questions were asked	Java, OOPS, DBMS, Problem Solving	Be confident in the interview, your resume is going to be the deciding factor so prepare your resume accordingly.
4	Niveditha A S	Numerical Ability, Analytical, Verbal, Basics of Databases & pseudocode questions	N0	Technical: Basics of C, Basics of Java (mainly on oops concept) HR: Questions related to Decision Making, Creative Thinking & Solution Oriented	C , Java, SQL (It mainly depends on what you have added in your resume)	Make sure that you know what you have added in your resume, Have knowledge about your project